an approach to comparative economic systems that avoids simple dichotomies to examine a wide variety of institutional and systemic arrangements with updated country case studies comparative economics with its traditional dichotomies of socialism versus capitalism private versus state and planning versus market is changing this innovative textbook offers a new approach to understanding different economic systems that reflects both recent transformations in the world economy and recent changes in the field this new edition examines a wide variety of institutional and systemic arrangements many of which reflect deep roots in countries cultures and histories the book has been updated and revised throughout with new material in both the historical overview and the country case studies it offers a broad survey of economic systems then looks separately at market capitalism marxism and socialism and new traditional economies with an emphasis on the role of religions islam in particular in economic systems it presents case studies of advanced capitalist nations including the united states japan sweden and germany alternative paths in the transition from socialist to market economies taken by such countries as russia the former soviet republics poland china and the two koreas and developing countries including india iran south africa mexico and brazil the new chapters on brazil and south africa complete the book s coverage of all five brics nations the chapter on south africa extends the book s comparative treatment to another continent the chapter on brazil with its account of the role of the amazon rain forest as a great carbon sink expands the coverage of global environmental and sustainability issues each chapter ends with discussion questions uses a historical study of bookselling and readers as a way to question and rethink our understanding of the market for symbolic goods combining historical study theorization and experimental fiction this book takes commodity culture and book retail around 1900 as the prime example of a market of symbolic goods with the port of southampton england as his case study simon r frost reveals how the city s bookshops with their combinations of libraries haberdashery stationery and books sustained and were sustained by the dreams of ordinary readers and how together they created the values powering this market the goods in this market were symbolic and were not consumed but read their readings were created between other readers and texts in happy disobedience to the neoliberal laws of the free market today such reader created social markets comprise much of the world s branded economies which is why frost calls for a new understanding of both literary and market values
